The Law Enforcement testing is for Patrol Peace Officer and Volunteer Reserve positions. The Correction testing is for Jail Detention Officer.

Written test for Law Enforcement and Corrections positions measures the applicant's English language ability in the areas of: reading, reading comprehension, memory retention and basic math skills. THE SHERIFF'S OFFICE DOESN'T PROVIDE STUDY MATERIALS FOR THE WRITTEN TEST. Once the timed portion of the test has started, anyone who is late will not be allowed to take the test during that testing session. Seating is limited to 25 applicants per test session. Sessions are filled based on receipt of application.

Applicants who score 60% or better on the written test are eligible to take the physical abilities test on March 31, 2012 or April 14, 2012 (both on Saturday). Sign-ups for the physical abilities test will take place immediately following the completion and passing of the written test.

The patrol physical abilities test includes: an approximate 440 yard obstacle course run, pushing, pulling, and lifting 80 pounds of weight and vaulting over a 3 foot high horizontal bar. The jail physical abilities test includes: an approximate 209 yard obstacle course run, pushing, pulling and lifting 60 lbs of weight and vaulting over a three foot high bar. Applicants must take separate written tests for law enforcement and jail if they wish to be considered for both positions. This testing will form an applicant eligibility list for the coming year or until another test is given. You must participate in entry level testing if you wish to be considered for a Patrol, Jail or Reserve position with the Bonneville County Sheriff's Office.
